What Real Users Are Saying About Automation Anywhere Versus Microsoft Power Automate

Venkata K.
Solution Architect at CMG Mortgage, Inc.
★★★★★

"We also explored Microsoft's Power Automate. However, it wasn't as mature or up to an enterprise level at the time. Automation Anywhere had good standards and excellent support, in terms of architecture, design, and user interface, we chose Automation Anywhere. It also has good community support."

Ronaldo F.
Automation COE Manager at a mining and metals company with 10,001+ employees

"We previously used the product Automate. That product had issues working with Java forms, which were extensively used by our ERP solution."
